

Doubt

There's passion in my heart, and heartbreak on my mind
Thoughts of situations past I need to leave behind

For I have something good right now
A boy who's smart and kind
I'm scared of how he makes me feel,
What shadows he could find

To make him turn the other way,
The last two months unwind
Leaving my heart, in greenest ink
With his name on it, signed

I know I need to trust, I know I need to chill
But problem-solvers solve the problem, searching for the thrill

I can do it, I can make it
Somehow I always do
No matter what the boy decides,
The sky is always blue

If I trust in God and trust in him,
I know I'll make it through
